

Luciano Floridi

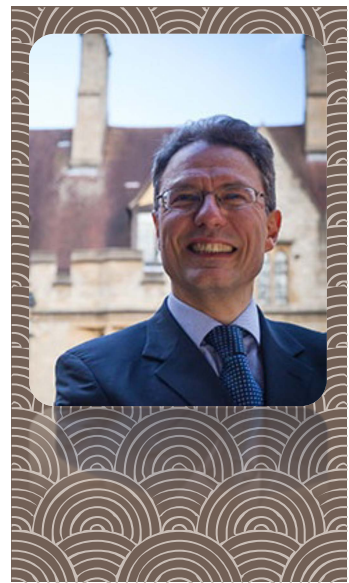

Memory and Communication in the Age of Information

The talk will address the recent date on the so-called "right to be forgotten" within a broader interpretation of the impact that information and communication technologies have on our self-understanding, our social interactions, and our conceptualization of the world.

Tuesday, 25 November 2014
18:30 P.M.
Vorhoelzer-Forum

More information at: www.wirtschaftsethik.edu.tum.de/

MUNICH LECTURE IN BUSINESS ETHICS

Prof. Floridi is Professor of Philosophy and Ethics of Information at the University of Oxford and Director at the Oxford Internet Institute. Recently, he was appointed as a member of the Google Advisory Council on the implementation of the
"Right To Be Forgotten".

Peter Löscher Chair of Business Ethics

Joint organization from:
Prof. Dr. Christoph Lütge
Peter Löscher-Stiftungslehrstuhl für Wirtschaftsethik
Prof. Dr. Robert Freiherr von Weizsäcker Lehrstuhl für Volkswirtschaftslehre